

Webinar #5, Spring Semester 2016:

Making It Developmental: Building a Process for Student Development

Date: May 19, 2016, 3:00 – 4:00 pm Eastern time

Presenter: Tara Harvey

Tara Harvey, Ph.D., will wrap up this webinar series by discussing the lessons learned through her own research and experience regarding the process of facilitating students' intercultural learning abroad. Dr. Harvey wrote her dissertation on this topic and, as Academic Director of Intercultural Learning at CIEE, developed the signature course, 'Intercultural Communication and Leadership' and integrated intercultural learning frameworks into CIEE's wide array of study abroad programs. In this webinar, she will discuss what educators need to focus on when building a process for student development.

Learning Outcomes: Participants in this webinar will be able to:

- Identify how intercultural and student development theory has been used to inform the active process of facilitating students' intercultural learning during study abroad
- Understand the key findings and lessons learned from these approaches
- Consider how these findings can inform their own work with students

About the presenter:

Dr. Tara Harvey has been in the field of international/intercultural education for more than fifteen years. As the Academic Director of Intercultural Learning at CIEE, she developed intercultural initiatives for the organization's extensive study abroad offerings and trained staff around the world to facilitate students' intercultural learning while abroad. She is an intercultural consultant and trainer to the higher education field, Adjunct Faculty in Intercultural Competence at the Middlebury Institute for International Studies at Monterey, and Associate Faculty at the Summer Institute for Intercultural Communication (SIIC).
